BACKGROUND: The festival pays tribute to California's billion dollar strawberry industry. Oxnard, with its unique coastal environment of ocean exposure and year-round moderate temperatures, is ideal for the luscious fruit. Strawberries are Ventura County's largest crop generating over $615 million in value in 2015. In the 1980s, then Oxnard Mayor, Dr. Tsujio Kato, gathered with City of Oxnard officials and a handful of local strawberry growers to explore ways to celebrate the strawberry industry. The festival premiered in 1984 at Channel Islands Harbor. After eight years, the increasingly popular event outgrew its original site, moving in 1992 to Strawberry Meadows of College Park, where it remains today. An estimated 1.5 million strawberries will be consumed during the two-day festival.

POSITIVE IMPACT: The nonprofit California Strawberry Festival is known as one of the nation's finest. The International Festival & Events Association and the Library of Congress have recognized the California Strawberry Festival for its extensive community programs benefiting education, arts and youths. The Association's research estimates the festival's economic impact to the community hovers at approximately $7.5 million for the two-day event.
